

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN IN A GROUP OF
WOMEN LIKE YOU WHO COLLABORATE
AND SHARE GUIDANCE IN A
CONFIDENTIAL OPEN ENVIRONMENT?

EMERGING LEADERS FORUM

The Commonwealth Institute is a nonprofit, women's mentoring organization that works with women to provide a safe, confidential, non-competitive environment to share challenges and develop growth strategies for their businesses.

You will become part of a community of emerging leaders committed to continue their professional and personal development who come together to share their experience and expertise with each other. This is a powerful and enriching opportunity to gain and give crucial feedback on career development and business challenges. Our mastermind group of smart women meet regularly to give advice, share connections and provide ongoing support. It is very much peer-to-peer mentoring. In addition our programs are designed to give you access to senior-level TCI members.

5 REASONS WHY AN EMERGING LEADERS FORUM MIGHT BE RIGHT FOR YOU

1. You'll be part of an exclusive community. Joining a forum includes being invited by the TCI members and going through an application process. This means that all members are screened to be sure they want to bring to the forum their insights, experience, knowledge and are committed to being active in the forum.

2. Advisement. Along with members members of a group and facilitators as your confidential business advisors.

3. Collaboration is the name of the game. You may find someone in the group that is a perfect fit to work with you on a project or, you may be the perfect person to help another member. The group works together collaboratively to achieve more together.

4. New learning. Everyone in the Forum is unique in skill, experience and connections. By interacting and sharing your challenges, it's almost certain that someone will have a solution for you and you may offer a solution, connection or tactic to help another in the group.

5. Think bigger. Being in a Forum will truly give you a Master Mind! You can't help but think bigger and stretch beyond your boundaries when surrounded by amazing people doing amazing things.
